

Instructor Position, Dept of Statistics, Virginia Tech

por webadmin - Viernes, febrero 27, 2015

<http://www.biometricsociety.net/2015/02/27/instructor-position-dept-of-statistics-virginia-tech/>

Position: Instructor in the Department of Statistics, Virginia Tech

About Virginia Tech:

Virginia Tech, founded in 1872 as a land-grant institution, is currently ranked as a Top 30 Public University by US News & World Report and a Top 30 Public Research University by the National Science Foundation. Through a combination of its three missions of learning, discovery, and engagement, Virginia Tech continually strives to accomplish the charge of its motto: Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). As the Commonwealth's most comprehensive university and its leading research institution, Virginia Tech serves a diverse population of 30,000+ students and 8000+ faculty and staff from over 100 countries, and is engaged in research around the world. Invent the Future at Virginia Tech.

The Department of Statistics currently has approximately 85 graduate students, 100 undergraduate majors, and 26 faculty, including three full-time Instructors and two Professors of Practice. The department is committed to providing quality instruction in statistics to disciplines across the university. More information about the department can be obtained at: <http://www.stat.vt.edu>.

Position Summary:

Applications are invited for a full-time, non-tenure track instructor position in the Department of Statistics, starting in August 2015. Primary duties for this position are to teach a variety of statistics courses, assist with the coordination of multi-section introductory statistics courses, and serve as an academic advisor for undergraduate students.

Continuing development of own professional capabilities and service on departmental, college, and/or university committees is expected.

Participation in local, national and international statistical societies is encouraged, especially with regard to efforts in statistical education.

Qualifications:

MS or PhD from an accredited university in Statistics or a related field and some teaching experience. Demonstrated excellence in teaching with the use of modern pedagogical techniques is preferred.

Application Procedure:

Applications must be submitted online at listings.jobs.vt.edu, posting #TR0150015. The application package should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a list of three references (including phone numbers and email addresses). The search committee may request recommendation letters from references at a later date. Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2015, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding the position can be directed to Dr. Leanna House, Assistant Professor and Search Committee Chair, Department of Statistics, Hutcheson Hall, Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061, Tel: \(540\) 231-2256, Email: lhhouse@vt.edu.

Comments:

Virginia Tech is an EO/AA university, and offers a wide range of networking and development opportunities to women and minorities in science and engineering. The Statistics department offers a supportive environment, including a mentoring program, to its instructors. Individuals with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should notify Ms. Betty Higginbotham, Department of Statistics, (540) 231-5657, or call TTY 1-800-828-1120.

Applications must be received online. For full consideration, applications should be received by April 1, 2015. However, applications and nominations will be considered until the position is filled.

Salary:

Negotiable, depending on commensurate with background and experience.